Great Great Great Grandparents of Barton Children

EARLY BARTONS BACKGROUND

The research of Rosemary Hales takes us back in time to Suffolk County in England.

Barton Family History is centered mainly on the small towns of:

- Clare (population approx. 2000)
- and
- Poslingford (population less than 300) in the south of Suffolk.

Map of Suffolk

Clare is in the South West Corner of Suffolk just near the Essex Border.

Poslingford is just 3km directly north of Clare (too small for the map).

John Barton and Ann Langley

John Barton and his first wife Ann Langley are used as the commencement point for the Barton Family History research by Rosemary Hales.

Additional material has been added to consolidate the research of Rosemary Hales.

An outline of Rosemary's research for John Barton and Ann Langley is presented below:

FAMILY of JOHN BARTON and ANN LANGLEY - per Rosemary Hales

Marriage 1. John BARTON married Ann LANGLEY at Clare, 1769

Children:

1.	Samuel	bapt.	11 January	1762	at	Clare (* unlikely to be their child)
2.	John	bapt.	22 Sept	1770		(later executed)
3.	Samuel (2)	bapt.	6 December	1773
4.	Thomas	bapt.	30 March	1776
		died		1782
5.	Ann	bapt.	18 July	1779
6.	Thomas	bapt.	24 Feb	1783

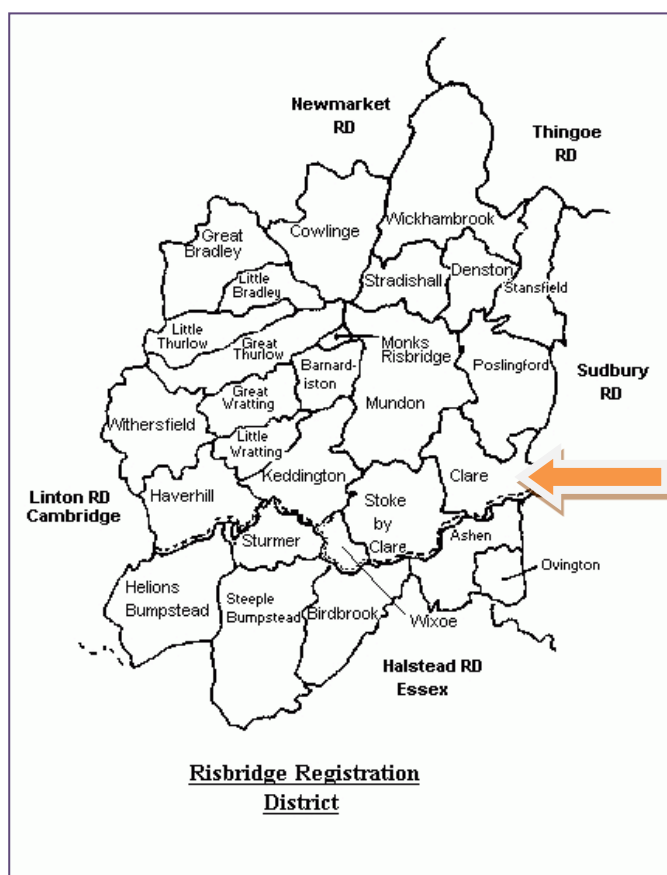

To place into historical context, the following events pertaining to the Barton family were to take place in an era when Captain James Cook in his ship "Endeavour" had rounded Cape Horn on his way to observe the transit of the planet Venus across the Sun in the Pacific Ocean at Tahiti before moving on to search for the rich southern land of "Terra Australis".

John Barton married Anne Langley at Clare, Suffolk in 1769. Boyd's Marriage Index lists the marriage in the Parish of Clare in 1769.

Ann Langley

The background of Ann Langley has been unclear for quite a long time but notation in the family tree research by R Brough has provided the following likely link:

Ann Langley in the England, Select Births and Christenings, 1538-1975

Name: Ann Langley

As per the above document, Ann was baptised 28 October 1735 at Cavendish, Suffolk, England, the daughter of Thomas and Alice Langley.

(Clare and Cavendish are only 6km apart)

There is a marriage listing for Thomas Lungley / Langley marrying Alice Foxearth on 16 November 1830 in the Parish of Melford.
(Note: The name Foxearth also appears on the above map as a village between Cavendish and Long Melford)

It is presumed that the Parish of Melford was based on the township of Long Melford, an ancient township with a rich Roman and Medieval history. When visiting Suffolk in 2015, we used Long Melford as our accommodation base.

Extracts of articles in the Bury (St Edmunds) & Norwich Post in 1789 & 1790 follow the trials and tribulations of John Barton and Ann Langley's child John Barton, which eventually led to his execution.

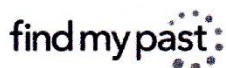

Note * Spelling is in "Old English"

2 December 1789: Yesterday fe'nnight John Barton and Thomas Brown were committed to our gaol by James Young and consequently charged with ftealing (stealing) fundry (sundry) articles of wearing apparel and other effects, out of the dwelling house of Ambrose Raifon, Stanfield.

23 December 1789: A conspiracy, having been formed by 10 of the felons confined in our gaol ----- to escape. Friday, 11.30 --- let out to go to bed. Edward Hudson and John Barton, came to the keeper in the kitchen and demanded the key of the outer door ----- gave them the wrong key.

7 April 1790: This morning, Thomas Barton and John Brown (the paper gave the names the wrong way round) ----- for the burglary in the house of Ambrose Raifon ----- will be executed here perfuant of their fentances.

14 April 1790: Wednesday last, Thomas (John) Barton and John (Thomas) Brown were executed here perfuant to their fentances, for breaking into the dwelling houfe of Mr Ambrofe Raifon of Stanfield. William Ranfon, who was to suffered with the above convicts as mentioned in our laft, received a respite for 14 days earlier that morning.

There were two "Thomas" Bartons. As was the case with many families often when a child was deceased, a subsequent child was given the same name as their deceased sibling. Hence the birth of (2) Thomas Bartons

Thomas Barton (1) was baptised on 30 March 1776 at St Peter & St Paul's Church, Clare.

This Thomas Barton was to die in 1782, aged just 6 years, and was buried at St Peter and St Paul Anglican Church at Clare on 15 November 1782.

There are no obvious early death records for Ann Barton and the most likely scenario may be below:

Scenario lacking authentication:

- The marriage on 29 October 1799 of Ann Barton to William Prior (a native of Tolleshunt, Essex) some 50km from Clare, Suffolk.

The marriage took place at Layham, Suffolk, just 30km from the bride's parish of Clare (Ann 20yrs of age) .

This is accompanied by the following christening:

Joseph Prior Barton, "England Births and Christenings, 1538-1975"

Name:	Joseph Prior Barton
Gender:	Male
Christening Date:	12 May 1799
Christening Place:	LAYHAM,SUFFOLK,ENGLAND
Mother's Name:	Ann Barton

As per this scenario the christening of Joseph Prior Barton takes place in May 1799 with the mother's name only listed. The marriage of Ann Barton and William Prior takes place some months later on 29 October 1799.

In the 1851 English Census Ann Prior is listed as a 70 year old widow, still living at Layham, Suffolk.

Further work is required to confirm the authenticity of the above information.

The last child born to John Barton and Anne Langley was our ancestor Thomas Barton (2) who was baptised on 24 February 1783, at St Peter & St Paul's Church, Clare.

Thomas Barton was to later marry Hannah Balls, producing a family of 7 children which included our latter ancestor, James Barton (father of Joseph Barton).

Rebecca Barton was to marry Henry Atterton at Clare, Suffolk on 4 April 1822.

In the 1841 English Census, Rebecca Atterton was living in Common Street, Clare.

Elizabeth was listed as 35 years of age (many ages listed in the 1841 Census were often rounded to the nearest 5 years and often understated).

Living at home was her mother Rebecca Barton aged 75 years.

Also living at home were her children:

- Charles 15
- Elizabeth 15
- James 13
- Susan 7
- John 5
- Mary Sharpe 20 (possibly a relative as Rebecca Barton (snr) maiden name was Sharp)

Husband Henry Atterton was not mentioned in the household for the 1841 Census.

Rebecca Atterton was to die soon after the Census and was buried at St Peter and St Paul, Clare on 16 Sept 1841. Rebecca was just 40 years of age (age is more accurate compared with the 1841 Census listing of 35 years of age).
