Thomas and Hannah (nee Balls) Barton

The research work of Rosemary Hales leads to the earliest record of Thomas Barton with the recording of his baptism at Clare, Suffolk (next town to Poslingford) on 24 January/ or May, 1783.

Thomas Barton's parents were listed as John Barton and Ann Langley.

Thomas carried the same name as an elder brother who died the previous year aged 6 years.

(Note ages in the 1841 Census were often only approximate and tended to be rounded off to the nearest 5 years)

Thomas Barton was listed as an Agricultural Labourer, 55 years of age. His wife Hannah was also aged 55 years. Also residing in the house was Samuel Barton, aged 15 years and William Barton aged 13 years.

Also living in the street was John Balls aged 50 years, presumably a brother of Hannah Barton (nee Balls).

The 1851 English Census lists Thomas and Hannah Barton still living in Poslingford.

Thomas Barton was now more accurately listed as 72 years of age and still employed as an Agricultural Labourer. His birthplace is listed as the nearby village of Clare.

Hannah was just one year younger aged 71 and there are no children listed as residing with what was then considered to be a relatively elderly couple. Hannah had her birthplace listed as Stansfield, also a nearby village.

The important breakthrough with Mary Barton came in December 2016 after my DNA test through Ancestry.

After following-up a DNA matching, I received an email from Jenny McDonald, of Lower Bowen Terrace, New Farm in Queensland Australia.

Jenny McDonald is a descendant of Mary Barton (1806-1892) who married Joseph Firman/Firmin (1805-1879).

Jenny is related through her mother who came to Australia as a war bride in 1946.

In 1831, Mary Barton [transcribed as Burton] married Joseph Firmin at Bellchamp Walter, a small parish in Essex approximately just 10-15km from Poslingford, Suffolk.

{The occupation of straw plaiter appears most frequently in listings throughout rural England, employing women of all ages and children.

Plaiting is the process of braiding several strips of softened wheat straw into lengths up to twenty yards.
